MURDER AND LYNCHING.

A Bloody Duel With Knives in Missouri.

CYCLONE CASUALTIES NOT AS BAD AS REPORTED.

Mob at a Madrid Bull Fight Stole the Mayor.

Special to the APPEAL

Killed His Landlady.

Hazleton, Pa., June 17.—John Spolack, an Hungarian miner, had a quarrel on Tuesday night with his land lady, Mrs. Hancock, and stabbed her twice, inflicting serious if not fatal wounds. He then fled from the house, pursued by a crowd of boarders who were eye witnesses. About three hours later his body was found at the bottom of a stoep under a car. At the Coroner's inquest a verdict of accidental death was returned. It is reported, however, that one of his pursuers said yesterday that Spolack was lynched and his body thrown down the stoep.

Fight With Knives.

Forsythe, Mo., June 17.—As a result of a feud growing out of the murder of Sheriff William, John Nettleton and Richard Meyer, both young men, fought a duel with knives near Protom. Both were fearfully slashed and died within half an hour.

Palacio's Flight.

New York, June 17.—A cablegram to the Herald from Caracas, West Indies, says: I have not yet heard from Caracas any positive information of the rumored flight of Palacio. Up to date I have sent three separate dispatches of inquiry into the truth of the story, but not one has been answered. I can only explain this on the ground that they have been seized by the Government censor, or else that the telegraphic cable service is completely demoralized. It is possible that the recent departure of ex-Minister of Finance Mattos from La Guayra for Paris may have given rise to the report about Palacio.

Brazilian Affairs.

New York, June 17.—The Herald's correspondent Buenos Ayres telegraphs that the Brazilian Minister of Commerce has resigned. It was reported from official sources that Matto Grosso had submitted to the home government and that the revolution was at an end. This is not credited in Buenos Ayres.

A telegram from Rio Grande do Sul says that Julio Costello is hatching a revolt in that State for the purpose of overthrowing Nicotun Pelotas. The United States war vessels Essex and Bennington are expected to take part in the inaugural ceremonies of President-Elect Luis Salazpenna.

The Bicycle Mail.

New York, June 17.—A relay race between this city and Boston was begun this morning at 3 o'clock. Geo. Smith of the Riverside Wheelmen received a packet from Postmaster Tan Cott addressed to Postmaster Hart at Boston, and mounting his wheel at the City Hall, was quickly on his way to cover the first stage. The first relay will be at Mount Vernon, then at Rye, and so on by way of Bridgeport, New Haven, and reaching Boston probably 8:30 A. M. The distance is 269 miles.

Poisoned Himself.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 17.—Frank Merrick, a farmer who had suspected his wife of infidelity, found her on Saturday in a compromising position. After horse-whipping her male visitor he ordered her to leave, telling her he would not live any longer with her. Merrick stayed all night at a neighbor's house and on returning in the morning found his wife dead. She had committed suicide by taking poison.

They Acknowledge the Corn.

New York, June 17.—The famous Charles Henderson and Charles W. Attilick, confidence men convicted of having buncoed Charles Gildener a Venezuelan of $600 were sentenced to State Prison for nine years each. At the trial they both admitted that they had made a fat living by this method for the last seven years.

Indictments Dismissed.

New York, June 17.—Judge Cowing, on motion of District Attorney Nicoll, today dismissed eight indictments against Henry S. Ives and George H. Stanor for appropriating money belonging to the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad. The District Attorney said he did not think conviction could be obtained.

Rogers Left.

Sacramento, June 17.—Superior Judge Van Fleet today decided that the election of John B. Rodgers as Chief of Police should be annulled, he not being a qualified elector of that city at the time of his election. Rogers will appeal.

Sensational Burglary.

Los Angeles, June 17.—The town is excited over a sensational burglary tonight. Burglars entered the residence of M. C. Newner and chloroformed the inmates, securing considerable money and jewelry.

Embezzling Officials.

San Francisco, June 17.—The Honolulu steamer brings the intelligence that Henry F. Poor, a government Postoffice official, has been arrested for embezzlement and bail fixed at $15,000.

ALL SORTS.

The Warrens dance last night was a great success, and was largely attended.

C. W. Craig of the Iayo Index passed through on last evening's train to Reno.

The Southern Esmeralda Silver League at its meeting in Candelaria Thursday evening elected the following solid silver delegates to the Silver Convention which meets in Reno on the 4th: F. Corkell, W. A. Corkell, W. A. Ingalls, W. H. Thomas, R. McKewen and S. L. McNaughton.

Suing Theodore Winters.

A St. Louis dispatch says: "Tom Tracy, a local horseman, has entered suit against Theodore Winters, the California turfman, famous as the owner of the sensational El Rio Rey, for the recovery of $700. Tracy bought the horse, Chan Haskell, from Jim Grant, Winters' agent, and claims that the latter guaranteed the animal to be sound. The horse is now going blind from the effects of lung trouble and Tracy claims that Grant knew he was in that condition when he parted with him. The horse is five years old, by Norfolk, dam Addie O'Neill, and has little reputation as a racer."

Why the eastern people give California as Mr. Winters' home and credit California with his honor when he has not lived there for many years and has not a hoof of stock in that State is a little mixed.

The W. C. T. U.

The session of the W. C. T. U. closed last evening with a large attendance. Mrs. Emily Pitt Stevens delivered the closing address and there was a very attractive musical programme under the direction of Mrs. W. T. Hanford.

Anti-Silva.

Chas. Vanini will be tried at 10 o'clock this morning for assaulting Frank Silva.

JUDGE LANG'S COURT.

A High Old Case on the Empire Calendar.

A month or so ago a boy in Empire committed an assault on a Chinaman by banging him over the head a few times with a shovel. He then left for parts unknown. A few days ago he returned with the recollections of his wrongs still burning in the Mongol's breast and he had his assailant arrested.

When the officers went after the boy the latter retreated into a cellar. The officer realizing that to enter a cellar was not good form on an ordinary warrant, went back to Judge Lang and asked for advice, meanwhile detailing two leading citizens of Empire, Bill Kinney and Hughy Willis, to watch the hole where the boy went in. The citizens were sworn in as deputies by the officers and thinking that the Court might be a long time in hunting the authorities, fortified themselves with crackers, cheese and Bologne sausage.

Lang looked over the authorities four hours and decided that a search warrant would have to be made out with a fee attendant. It was made out in due form and then the officer went to relieve his deputies, when he discovered that the boy had crawled out of another hole and been gone three hours. This was the first time the law reached for him but the second time it was more successful and he was dragged into Court.

He gave his name as Vogt and the Court was called to order with the Judge in his best store clothes and Billy Woodburn for the defense. When the Chinaman came to testify the Court said sternly:

"Do you catch on to the nature of an oath?"

"I guess so," was the reply.

"If you lie in this Court," thundered the Judge, "the United States Government will follow you clear round the world, yank you out of China and bring you back to the jail in Ormsby county. I'm talking cold law to ye now, ye heathen."

The Celestial seemed to understand, and nodded.

"And I want you to further understand," continued his honor, "that I've been Judge here ever since this town was started, and I never had the Supreme Court ever reverse any of my decisions. Don't ye forget that, and if ye lie I'm dead onto ye. Go ahead with the testimony," continued the Judge, throwing his No. 11 boot up on his desk to keep the sun off his face.

The Chinaman said he was hit with a shovel over the head.

"Where's the shovel?" asked the Court.

"No ne hab got."

"I'll give you thirty days to produce the corpus delictu. Call the next case."

The jury then came in and acquitted the boy on the grounds laid down by the Court. The Court of Judge Lang in Empire is what is known as "hot rags" down there.

The Fractional Vote.

Our neighbor the News takes exception to our explanation of the fractional vote in the convention.

While doffing our hat to the superior political experience of our contemporary, we still believe we are correct. The Sacramento News takes the same view. It says in answer to a query:

It may happen this way: If there are say ten delegates from a State and they wish to divide their strength equally between three candidates they would cast 3 1-3 votes for each man, or if five delegates wanted to vote for Blaine and the other five wished to divide equally between Harrison and Sherman, the vote would stand Blaine 5, Harrison 2 1-2 Sherman 2 1-2. Such instances frequently occur. This is made possible by the fact that the votes are cast by States, the delegates not as individuals. It has happened however, that a delegate has deliberately split his vote in two, giving one portion to each of the two prominent candidates.

Our Indians On Deck.

The Washoe Indians from this city are cutting a wide swath in San Francisco. The advertisement of their coming read this way in the newspapers: The Sioux are here; Standing Bear, the Great War Chief, with his Escort, has arrived.
